R K Singh

L3 · RETURN

Read the 100 words you wrote in Week 1. What do you now believe that you did not believe then?

Four units, one practitioner model

STAGE	UNIT	CORE QUESTION
Diagnosis	Unit II	Why are people engaged or not?
Design	Unit I	What system manages performance?
Strategy	Unit III	How do we act on engagement at scale?
Culture	Unit IV	What makes it last?

L3 · COMPARISONS THE END TERM FAVORS

Know how each pair differs

PAIR	THE DIFFERENCE THAT MATTERS
Kahn against Q12	Psychological presence against manager controlled conditions
JD R against SDT	Resources against demands, versus needs and the quality of motivation
SDT against PsyCap	Needs satisfied by the context, versus resources held by the person
OKR against BSC	Ambitious quarterly goals, versus a strategy map across perspectives

Format and criteria

FEATURE	DETAIL
Duration and marks	3 hours, 90 marks
Questions 1 to 4	20 marks each; attempt one of two options
Question 5	10 marks; attempt one of two options

L3 · HOW TO ANSWER

A structure for a 20 mark answer

1 Define
Define the concepts the question turns on; state your approach in two lines.

2 Analyze
Apply frameworks systematically, with evidence for each major claim.

3 Illustrate
Use Indian organizations; Bharat Textiles is fair, Indian comparators are stronger.

4 Conclude
Synthesize, recommend, and state the limits of your argument.

Retrieval beats rereading

ROEDIGER AND KARPICKE (2006)

The evidence

Students who practiced retrieving material remembered far more a week later than those who restudied it.

Practice

Write one full 20 mark answer in 30 minutes. Pacing is the most common failure.
